

2023 Young Scholar Award
Antje Jantsch

2023 Young Scholar Award

Antje Jantsch

- Post-doc in the Department of Agricultural Policy at the Leibniz Institute of Agricultural Development in Transition Economies (IAMO)
- Ph.D. in agricultural economics
- Research focus: (i) well-being and place attachment in rural areas, and (ii) household finances and social comparison processes in relation to well-being
- Leader of the Leibniz Junior Research Group “Rural well-being in transition- multidimensional drivers and effects on (im)mobility (RuWell)”
- Generates policy-salient research findings that will shape public discourse on matters pertaining to the quality of life in rural East Germany and Southeast Europe
- Associate researcher at the World Database of Happiness based at EHERO, Rotterdam