

2023 Research Fellow Award

David Bartram

2023 Research Fellow Award: David Bartram

- Research focus:
 - the impact of international migration on happiness/life-satisfaction
 - the relationship between economic inequality and various aspects of subjective well-being
 - advances in quantitative methods for application in quality-of-life research, with emphasis on addressing causal questions
- Editor-in-chief, Social Indicators Research (from January 2024)
- Co-editor, Journal of Happiness Studies (2016 to 2023)
- President of RC31, the research committee on the Sociology of Migration, for the International Sociological Association (2018 to 2023)
- Sociologist at the University of Leicester (UK) since 2006; Director of Research for the School of Media, Communication, and Sociology (2021-2023)
- Research funding awards from the British Academy, Leverhulme Trust, Economic and Social Research Council, Nuffield Foundation, Social Science Research Council (USA)
- PhD (Sociology) from the University of Wisconsin–Madison (1999). Supervisor: Erik Olin Wright
- >2400 citations; h-index = 21
- Publications: 2 books, 31 articles, 9 book chapters